YARICK NAMED MEMBER HIGH SCHOOL BOARD

Succeeds Late Claud Pulliam—To Take Up Duties at Once

MANAGER OF ESTATE

Lived in Glendale Past 14 Years—Active for Public

Word has just reached Principal George U. Moyle of Glendale High from the office of Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, that H. W. Yarick of this city, has been appointed a member of the board of trustees for the Glendale Union High school district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of C. O. Pulliam.

Mr. Yarick is a native son, having been born in Dunnigan, Yolo county. For 20 years he has been a resident of Southern California and 14 of the 20 he has lived in Glendale where he has exhibited his public spirit in many ways.

As manager of the Earl Estate and official in several other corporations he has had experience with big affairs and should prove a valuable member of the board. His daughter, Miss Marjorie Yarick, is a senior in the school, and her brother, Wayne Yarick, will enter it next year as a freshman. Mrs. Yarick has been active in P. T. A. work and was president of the high school organization last year.

HOLLYWOOD CENTER OF DEVIL'S DEN IS CHICAGO VIEW

Windy City Clergyman Writes Breezy Letter to Man on Coast

Hollywood, Oct. 20.—Chicago church and club women are threatening to petition President Harding for an investigation into the moral conditions of Hollywood, "capital of the movie world." This information was contained in a letter from a noted Chicago divine to Dr. Samuel J. Skevington, pastor of the Baptist church of Hollywood, received today.

Excerpts from the letter follow: "Is Hollywood a sink of iniquity? Have you a white slave camp there? Does the place stink to heaven? Some of the women of this city, this pure white town, are asking us to petition the president of the United States to appoint a commission to investigate that awful place. "I told them to hold off a bit and let me send a message down to those deep pits of sin and ask a Hollywooder I happen to know who is sojourning there. So here is the message at the end of a long string let down into your abyss in the hope that the fires will not sever it before I can draw it back again to smell of the other end that has the message on it. Now then, tell me what the facts are and whether we should all leave the clean and moral climate of Chicago and go to Hollywood?"

JORDAN EXPRESSES VIEWS ON PLANS FOR DISARMING

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Oct. 20.—"Absolute and complete disarmament on the Pacific by both the United States and Japan is the next most feasible step to be taken by both of these countries," declared David Star Jordan, chancellor of Stanford University in an interview here today. He expressed the opinion that more than 90 per cent of the Japanese people want disarmament. "The only way we will escape future wars," said Jordan, "will be to destroy the means of conducting them. If there are no ships there will be no method of attack. There has been no rivalry between the United States and Canada in the Great Lakes which were made free of armament. The same condition can be made to prevail between the other nations of the world. Japanese leaders with whom I am acquainted all want peace and are anxious for disarmament."

Dr. Jordan recently received a letter from Madame Mozaki, wife of a prominent democratic leader in Japan. "The letter related that at speeches made recently in 70 Japanese towns more than 150,000 people showed less than 5 per cent favoring armament," Jordan said. "Of course," he added, "each nation has need of a few fast cruisers to carry messages but these need not be armed. Delegates to the coming conference in Washington can go as far towards disarmament as they dare without alienating the armament and munitions interests. There are people who believe that there are in the United States 1,000,000 people interested in war armament, solely for selfish purposes. A smaller number is interested in Japan."

Perhaps You Never Have Thought About Your Mental House

How is your house furnished your mental house? Is it over-stuffed, heavy or oppressive?

James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" tonight asks and answers these questions and he reaches the conclusion that the number of your callers and their kind will depend a good deal on how your mental house is furnished.

Mr. Foley has an original way to cause you to think and that is why his articles are to be found on the editorial page.

We want you to get better acquainted with Mr. Foley and his philosophy and with Mr. Henry James who each evening comments on the news.

Tonight Mr. James tells of the woman who believed her dead baby had come back. He also writes about men who desert their families and Dr. Frank Crane has an able article on "The Cause of Unemployment." He hits straight from the shoulder and expresses his opinion in no uncertain terms.

These notable writers and others speak to you each evening through the editorial page of this paper. You will find that they speak intelligently and we want you to welcome them to your home. We want you to get their viewpoint even though it may be different from yours. They are earnest men, well read and alive to the problems of the day.

SHOOTING SHOTS SEVERAL SHOOTING

If the residents of Glendale hear shots from the direction of the Salt Lake railroad tracks today there is no reason to be alarmed. The city is not the center of a long war nor the object of attack, for it is merely a company of Vitagraph motion picture actors making pictures. This morning one of the actors all dolled up in trick clothes, grease paint and everything appeared at the police station and requested permission to fire guns in the city limits, along the Salt Lake tracks. He said that the company had chartered a train and wanted to take a railroad comedy in Glendale that would require considerable gunfire. Sergeant Mann assured the actor that as long as the shooting did not block traffic it would be allowed.

MANY HAVE SIGNED

Need For Such an Organization is Pointed Out by Leaders

The merchants of Glendale are showing considerable interest in the proposed Merchants' Association. Frank Pilling, secretary of the merchants' association of Everett, Wash., who is in Glendale in the interest of the organization, states that he is meeting with a measure of success that is entirely unexpected. The merchants interviewed are declaring themselves enthusiastically in favor of such an association and are backing up their assertions by signing membership cards.

The prospects are that the meeting to be held in the chamber of commerce room at 7:30 o'clock tonight will be well attended. It is the consensus of opinion of the merchants that an organization of this character is needed.

Mr. Vandewater and Mr. Wier, secretary and president of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association will be at the meeting tonight, and will give addresses on the operation of the organization they represent. Mr. Pilling will also make an address.

MRS. HAMON WANTS FIRESIDE HUSBAND

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Georgia Hamon, widow of the Oklahoma millionaire who was shot to death by Clara Smith Hamon, wants a homely man who likes his slippers and an open fire at night. She said so today when asked about rumors that she was engaged to F. A. Morrison, a wealthy California mining man.

"Mr. Morrison asked me to marry him, but refused," she said. "He is too handsome and too rich. When I marry again it will be a poor, homely man, who will stay by his own fireside."

Mrs. Hamon is seen frequently in company with Morrison, who is here attending the national mining convention.

"We have been good friends for years, but I wouldn't consider him for a husband," she said. "He is too attractive."

ELDRIDGE, Cal., Oct. 20.—"I welcome the fullest investigation," Dr. F. O. Evans of Oakland, member of the board of managers filed the request with the governor, charging that immorality among patients had been permitted and that the management was inefficient. Dr. Butler declared he could see no foundation for the charges. "I deny them absolutely," he said.

'INNOCENT' WAILED BRUMFIELD TODAY

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 20.—As sure as there is a God in heaven, I am innocent of this crime for which I have been convicted. Thus did Dr. Richard M. Brumfield, convicted last night of the murder of Dennis Russell, announce to the world his belief in his own innocence.

This is the first time Dr. Brumfield has insisted upon his innocence in a sane and rational manner, save, perhaps, the formal plea of "not guilty" which he entered to be charged of first degree murder. "In the eyes of God I am innocent, but I am not afraid to meet death," he said.

Several railroads near New York reported college boys and wealthy commuters who ran trains during the "outlaw" strike had again volunteered for service.

Introducing 'Captain Bill,' Licensed Pilot.

Here is "Captain Bill," in private life Mrs. Hannah Schuyler, of Far Rockaway, N. Explaining her desire for the license, "Captain Bill" said: "My husband takes out fishing parties of men and, in addition is often asked to take out parties of women who want to fish. But he has often complained that when he takes out the women he finds that they talk too much about everything in the world but fishing. Now he will take out the men, and I will take out the women. Simple, isn't it?"

BUS LINES HERE TO BE DISCUSSED BY P. E. OFFICIALS

General Passenger Agent Here Today, Conference With Officials

Glendale's transportation problem seems near solution. This was indicated by a visit General Passenger Agent A. A. Smith of the Pacific Electric lines made to the city hall today where he was in conference with Mayor Robinson and City Manager Reeves regarding the installation of Pacific Electric buses. The bus lines, if installed here, will serve the northeast and the northwest sections, connecting with the Pacific Electric line at Brand boulevard. The system, according to Mr. Smith, will be operated similar to the bus line the Pacific Electric is operating in San Bernardino between that town, Highland and Patton. It is understood that either Mr. Smith or some other official of the Pacific Electric contemplates appearing before the city council at their next meeting to make application for a permit to establish such lines.

The announcement comes as a climax to the campaign carried on by the chamber of commerce to secure some means of transportation for the residents of the northwest and the northeast sections.

Several weeks ago the Glendale Daily Press published a series of articles advocating establishing transportation lines through these sections and outlined a tentative route for such a line.

COMMUNISTS RIOT ATTEMPT FREE MEMBERS

Seek Freedom of Two Members in Jail in America

HELD FOR MURDER

Ask Pardon of Two Convicted of Brutal Murder of Playmate

Reports from European capitals and from South America indicate the existence of an international communist plot to secure by intimidation the freedom of Nicolao Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, Italian communists convicted of brutal murder of a playmate and a guard at South Braintree, Mass., July 14.

American ambassadors in Rome, Brussels and London, have received threatening letters from communists in those countries. Yesterday an attempt was made to assassinate American Ambassador Herrick at Paris by means of a bomb sent through the mail, after he had ignored threats from communists in France. Brazilian communists have sought to influence the press in Rio De Janeiro in favor of a pardon for the convicted murderers in Massachusetts.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Arrests are imminent in connection with the bomb which exploded at Ambassador Herrick's residence, yesterday it was announced today after a nation-wide dragnet of police and special detectives has been flung out in search of the perpetrators.

The communists disclaim responsibility for the attempted assassination of the ambassador in which his British valet was wounded announced today their intention of continuing the campaign to free Sacco and Vanzetti, communists convicted of murder in the United States.

Ambassador Herrick went to the embassy as usual today and this afternoon played golf, refusing the service of personal guard. General Pershing was closely guarded as he left today for Cherbourg.

The attempted assassination of Ambassador Herrick led to uproarious scenes and indescribable tumult in the French chamber of deputies. Deputy Mandel, henchman of former Premier Clemenceau, in a fiery speech, attacked the police and the department of justice for permitting the outrage to occur. He also made a bitter attack upon the communist and socialist senator, Escoffier, leaped at him and struck him in the face.

For fifteen minutes the chamber was in confusion with deputies shouting and battling.

Communists created an uproar in a downtown moving picture theater here this afternoon when they attempted to stop the performance of the film "Red Russia." The show was halted, and after several arrests had been made, the communists retired, announcing they would return at the night's performance.

QUEEN MARIE DID PURSUE J. SYKES

DENVER, Oct. 20.—"Queen" Marie Frede of the Tabernacle of David, was the "pursued" and not the "pursuer" so far as Joshua "Jehovah" Sykes, self styled "King of Heaven and Earth" was concerned, according to a decision handed down in court here yesterday. Mrs. Grede was the defendant in a $50,000 alienation of affections suit brought by Mrs. Emma Sykes, Joshua's legal wife.

The court held that Mrs. Frede, mother of Sykes' son did not "vamp" the religious leader as Mrs. Sykes charged, and ordered a verdict for the defendant. Mrs. Frede testified that she succumbed to Sykes' wiles only after months of ardent pleading. At present Sykes is serving a prison term at McNeil Island, Wash., for obstructing the draft.

TOO MANY HOUSES ON ONE LOT CAUSE OF MUCH COMPLAINT

Suggest Ordinance Compel Property Owners Adhere to Restriction

F. W. Harper of Harper & Craig, in speaking of building restrictions in Glendale said that there is one restriction that is much needed, and that is a restriction against the indiscriminate building of houses as regards location on a lot and the building of two houses on one lot.

According to Mr. Harper, many property owners have been in the habit of building a house on the rear of a lot and in order to increase the income on this particular piece of property have erected another house on the front. This practice is all right from the view point of the owner of the property but the owner of adjoining property is not considered.

According to Mr. Harper, the building of two houses on a lot in most cases depreciates the value of adjoining houses, as in most cases, it is necessary to build the two houses in such a position that the kitchen of one house is flush with the living or dining room windows of an adjoining house. One instance was cited where a man purchased a corner lot and built a large house facing on one street and has announced that another house facing on the other street will be built and a garage between the houses, is promised. If this plan is carried out the kitchen window of the last house to be erected will open into the dining room of the adjoining property and the dining room will be flush with the living room. The view from one side of the adjoining house will be destroyed and as a result the valuation of the property next to the corner will depreciate at least $500.

As a remedy for this, Mr. Harper suggests that the city pass an ordinance regulating the building of houses in regards to the number that may be erected on one lot and the location of these houses. Miami, Florida, has such an ordinance in effect and it is proving a success. Miami is one of the greatest tourist cities in the United States and is recognized as one of the most beautiful cities.

Several agree with Mr. Harper that Glendale is considered the bedroom of Los Angeles. Through the efforts of a few people who put self-interest ahead of civic pride it is rapidly turning from the fastest growing home city in the west to a camping ground for business people of Los Angeles.

Works While You Work; Helps You to Independence

If the average man would keep an account of the money he spends needlessly, he would feel like kicking himself all over the plantation.

If the average man would put aside a certain amount of his earnings every month and invest it in our MEMBERSHIP SHARES, he would enjoy the novelty of having his money work hand in hand with him, earning a dividend for him.

TAX YOUR INCOME

The way to make your money work for you is to TAX YOUR INCOME a certain amount each month, the same as you tax it to pay rent, light, gas, and other necessities.

READING CIRCLE HAD GOOD MEETING
Members of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle were rewarded yesterday by finding the library pleasantly comfortable and the session very interesting.
An article by Bruce Barton entitled, "You Can't Fool Your Other Self," was entertainingly reviewed by Mrs. Reed Heustis. She made clear Mr. Barton's contention "We do well only those things that interest us." As he expresses his theory, "you remember the things you really want to remember. You recall the people you really want to recall."
Mrs. A. A. Barton, chairman of the Circle, read a charming selection from the writings of James W. Foley, the Southern California poet.

Following the luncheon Mrs. H. V. Henry continued the reading of "All the Children of All the People," her chapter covering the development of the public school system of the United States. The author points out the significant fact that while the course is planned to prepare every child for college, only six out of every thousand enrolled in the country at large, are graduated from a high school. He contends that a few of the children of a few of the people are fitted for a few positions in life whereas all the children of all the people should be educationally equipped for life. Said he: "Three unforeseen forces have entered into our national life: the universal use of machinery, the development of science, the growth of a conglomerate democracy. Our educational needs have changed accordingly but the educational system has not kept pace with the changes."

LAW SECTION MET WEDNESDAY
The Parliamentary Law section of the Tuesday Afternoon club of which Mrs. Harry Greenwalt is curator, met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Perry where organization was studied.
At the meeting of the club the third Tuesday in November, this section will give a demonstration program in dramatic form which will show the method of organizing a club and conducting a business session.

INTERESTING DRILL BY HIGH P.T. ASS'N.
At the meeting of the High School Parent-Teachers' Association Wednesday afternoon with 75 present, the president, Mrs. Wyman, announced chairmen of standing committees as follows:
Program, Mrs. J. I. Wernette; membership, George O. Lockwood; education, Mrs. W. W. Stofft; finance, Mrs. L. T. Rowley; philanthropy, Mrs. Frank C. Ayars; patriotism, Mrs. C. L. Peckham; visiting, Mrs. E. Johnson; courtesy, Mrs. E. B. Moore; publicity, Mrs. E. A. Bagley; playground, Mrs. N. C. Hayhurst; juvenile court, Mrs. J. C. Hursley.

Mrs. P. S. McNitt was asked to give the association a parliamentary drill which lasted about 15 minutes and proved quite entertaining. After briefly reviewing the procedure of organization, the officers and their relative rank, how the presiding officer should be addressed, and how motions should be announced, she asked the audience to consider her the chairman for the time being and for the purposes of drill to consider the hypothetical motion: "That the members of this association bob their hair."

Mr. Moysie moved to amend by inserting the word "women" before the word members.
Mrs. John Robert White objected to the amendment on the ground that the association did not wish to discriminate along sex lines nor offer encouragement to men to wear their hair long.
Mrs. John Cotton moved to amend by adding the words: "If it be becoming."

Mr. Davis moved to table and on a tie vote the chairman declared the motion lost and stated that the hour for adjournment having arrived the matter would have to go over to another meeting and be considered under unfinished business.
Wafers and iced tea (which was greatly appreciated because of the heat), were served by the chairman of courtesy and her assistants before the meeting opened, and at its close many lingered to take out memberships in the campaign which Mr. Lockwood is inaugurating and for which the board of directors have allowed $75 to be spent in prizes to be given to student workers in the drive.

MRS. BRENNAN HOSTESS AT FIVE HUNDRED
Mrs. M. J. Brennan entertained yesterday at a very pretty Halloween luncheon in honor of her mother, Mrs. M. Clark and daughter, Lorraine, of Chicago. The afternoon was spent playing 500, the prize going to Mrs. H. M. Doll.
Mrs. Brennan's guests included, Mrs. Peter L. Ferry, Mrs. J. Endicott, Mrs. M. O'Brien, Mrs. J. Endicott, Mrs. M. Clark and daughter, Lorraine, Mrs. Jessie Smith, Mrs. Frank Salmacia, Mrs. Charles Griffin, Mrs. J. G. Monahan, Mrs. H. M. Doll, Mrs. Don Dixon of Los Angeles and Miss Susan Wendell.

P. E. O. CHAPTER'S RECIPROCITY LUNCHEON
A delicious meal and a delightful program were enjoyed by members of the four P. E. O. chapters in Glendale and the Burbank chapter at a reciprocity luncheon yesterday at the Congregational church, the ladies of that organization acting as caterers.

Tables were beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums of yellow and white, the colors of the order. As soon as seated members united in the singing of the doxology. The guest of honor was Mrs. Lola P. Bennett, state president, who has just returned from attendance on the supreme convention at Kansas City.
Following the luncheon Mrs. Vernon Putman, president of the Reciprocity bureau, called the meeting to order and after a few words of greeting called upon Mrs. Bennett for a report of the convention.
This was followed by a brief musical program to which Mrs. H. V. Brown and Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward contributed a piano duet, and Miss Isabel Isgrig, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Harriet Randall, sang two numbers.

WAGENHEIM HAS LONG, CHILLY BATH

Gus Wagenheim had a narrow escape Sunday morning while hunting ducks near Chatsworth, according to his story, with a friend he was out on the lake shooting birds and when he started to return to shore a squall blew up and capsized the boat. Wagenheim and his companion were in the water for an hour and a half before reaching the shore and both men were completely exhausted. According to the story by the two hunters the squall blew up suddenly and all attempts to keep their boat headed into the wind failed. When the boat capsized the men attempted to right it and sail to land. Their efforts failed and the men set out to swim ashore.

SLICK SUSPECT HAS FILE TO AID HIM IN ESCAPING

Henry Wilsey Gets Out of Local Jail, Held on Forgery Charge

Glendale police have issued a call to all police in Southern California to be on the lookout for Henry P. Wilsey, alleged forger, wanted in Glendale, El Monte and Pasadena. He escaped from the Glendale city jail last night or early this morning.

Wilsey was arrested Wednesday at Sunland, by Detective Scales. At the time, Wilsey resisted the officer and a struggle took place before Detective Scales could put he handcuffs on his prisoner. He was brought to Glendale and placed under a $3000 bond and the office of Pasadena were notified that he was being held here.

Chief of Police Martin issued orders that the man be watched, as he would in all probability make an attempt to escape. As each shift went on watch at the station, patrolmen and the desk sergeant were told to watch Wilsey's cell. Several of the patrolmen reported that the man was sleeping when they stopped to investigate at the jail, located in fire house No. 1. This morning about 9 o'clock an officer was sent to feed the prisoner and found that he had escaped.

A search of the cell revealed a file hidden in the blankets of the cot. This file belongs to the fire department and was in use repairing one of the trucks a few feet from the cell. Wilsey had in some manner secured the file and pried the lock off the cell door.

The front doors of the engine house are closed at night and all of the firemen are up stairs. It is believed Wilsey, after prying the lock off the door made his escape through the back door of the engine house and walked to Sunland where he secured his automobile.

His wife is still at Sunland and has no knowledge of his whereabouts. It is known that he visited Sunland after escaping from the Glendale jail as his machine is missing.

Police believe that he has taken the machine and will attempt to cross the border into Mexico. He is driving a Willys-Sainte Claire touring car bearing the license number 593452.

Mrs. Jennie Ponnell was the recent guest of Mrs. Edith Dockeray at her home, 723 South Louise street.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but becomes weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Truths in Epigram

It is better to be unborn than untaught: for ignorance is the root of misfortune.—Plato.

Let a man keep the law—any law—and his way will be strewn with satisfaction.—Emerson.

Sin has many tools, but a lie is the handle that fits them all.—O. W. Holmes.

FUTURE COMMERCIAL GREATNESS

Governor Hart of Washington said in a recent interview:

"Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle will some day be rated in commercial importance with New York, Boston and Philadelphia."

Perhaps the people of the east would smile superior at these words. Nevertheless the statement of the governor is wholly reasonable. Americans now living may see them verified. The more distant future is almost certain to witness the verification. Conditions tend to accelerate the westward movement; and on this coast the east and west must meet.

Each of the three cities named has an excellent harbor. That of Los Angeles, created artificially in large part, may in the end equal the best. The harbor of San Francisco, nature's generous gift, is one of the finest in the world. That of Seattle has depth and area and shelter. Portland is not in the list because of lack of nearness to the ocean.

Harbors alone do not make cities, but they are of vast importance. Behind all growth there must be material resource. In this the territory directly tributary to the Pacific coast is abundantly blessed. California, and particularly the southern end of it, has water power almost beyond estimate, capable of being developed cheaply. Therefore it is becoming recognized as elsewhere unequaled for manufacturing purposes.

It may seem trite, and yet it is a circumstance worth mentioning again, that this region has a climate that must be reckoned as a valuable part of its assets. Tourists come for the charms of the region, and find them. But they observe here great opportunity for investment and they elect to remain.

PROBING FINANCES

Charges are made that certain employees of the federal banking system are notoriously overpaid. It is quite possible that the charges are baseless. They may be inspired by partisan rancor. Perhaps they merely represent another form of attack upon the federal banks. At any rate the truth concerning them should be ascertained.

It is stated in the charges that clerks who before the war received salaries of $1200 to $1500 now are getting $10,000 to $30,000. Substantiation of this would be exposure of two wrongs. The former salaries were too small for competent men. The latter scale is far above a just level for men in public service, who in private service had been rated so low.

The phase of the matter that directly concerns the public is the question of economy. Long and loud has been the talk of curtailment of government expenditures. The policy has been put into practice at considerable cost to general convenience. Appropriations have been lopped off ruthlessly. The public recognized the necessity, and made no complaint.

There is no reason to suppose that efficient men could not be procured for federal banks for the same pay they would receive in private banks. Probably nobody would object were the salaries in the former positions made larger than private banks are in the habit of paying. This does not mean that they ought to be multiplied by twenty. From $1500 to $30,000 is too wide a difference. The beneficiaries should be deprived of their financial seven-league boots and instructed to come down to earth. Always provided, that the accusations rest on facts.

KEEPING GIRLS AT HOME

A requisite for keeping girls at home is to provide the home. This is being done by the Business Women's club of Los Angeles. The thought is worthy, and the plan inspired by it is being beneficently carried out.

These women have provided a place in which girls who work for the minimum legal wage may have the comforts and decencies and freedom of a home. The rates are so low that they do not have to pay more than they can afford. The place provided is not an institution nor an asylum nor a refuge; it is better than any of these, for it is a real home.

Many girls who work for a living are obliged to house themselves in solitary and meager rooms. Perhaps one shares the accommodation with another girl, and to this association the companionship of both is limited. There is no opportunity for the perfectly proper social relaxations that are essential, no place in which to receive company, no privacy.

Some girls who live in the houses of their parents are to be congratulated. Such a condition easily might be ideal. In other cases the wage-earning girl has a right to greater independence than the parental dwelling affords.

In the place arranged by the Women's club the ambition is to create the atmosphere of home. This means freedom from irksome restriction, while affording adequate chaperonage. The girls will be under the same rules of propriety that would be recognized by thoughtful parents.

Reports that girls have disappeared are startlingly common. Perhaps they go, as to part at least, because of the lack of just such care and comfort as these thoughtful women are placing within the reach of the modest income of the worker.

CABINET FRICTION

There has not been the slightest indication of friction in the Harding cabinet. Reports of such friction have originated in the minds of correspondents. Just now they relate to the President and the secretary of the treasury. It is safe to set these rumors down as baseless. Mr. Mellon doubtless has definite ideas as to the treatment of the debts of Europe to the United States. The Penrose bill would have put into his hands the power to carry out his own policies. This would have placed upon him a responsibility of such magnitude that any individual must have hesitated to assume the load.

The President has indicated a readiness to place the subject in the hands of a board of five members. The board would be headed by Mr. Mellon. It is a fair presumption that he would be the dominating force of the body. It would become his privilege to procure the endorsement of his colleagues if his scheme possessed the merit he attributes to it. If the colleagues were able to point out to him that the plan had defects, as a financier and a citizen he could not be otherwise than grateful to be saved from a blunder.

If two heads, as often affirmed, are better than one, five heads would be a still greater advantage. Because the President believes he has found a better way of approaching a problem, and makes the suggestion, is nothing on which to base the statement that a disagreement has arisen.

PENNSYLVANIA'S NEW SENATOR

Senator Crow, who succeeds the late Senator Knox, was the choice of Penrose, and had the active support of Lodge. These circumstances give his status to all observing students of affairs.

It was deemed necessary that somebody be named who would be certain to support the treaty with Germany.

In a sense, public sentiment never has favored this treaty, and yet has been anxious for its ratification. This seeming anomaly means that the treaty was recognized as a necessary evil. Peace with Germany was demanded by every circumstance. Matters had been so shaped that no other way was open. Therefore the separate peace, warmly denounced by some of the gentlemen advocating it later, had come to represent the only logical solution.

This country could not well enter into a disarmament conference while technically at war. A failure of the treaty would handicap the conference. Indeed, it may be this very fact that is arousing opposition to the treaty. At various times there have been indications of hope that the gathering in November would result in nothing reformatory. On the contrary, certain interests would be glad to have it accentuate the theory that an understanding among nations is a dream.

It is desirable that the world get back to normal with all speed. This it cannot do while one of the great powers is declining to end a state of war. Therefore, the desire that the treaty be ratified, and therefore impatience with the partisan spirit that seeks to prevent.

The Cause of Unemployment

By Dr. Frank Crane.

Since the beginning of this comic opera called Humanity there has been a marked desire on the part of all the participants to eat their cake and have it too.

It can't be done, but each generation persists in trying. We refuse to link cause to effect, when the cause does not happen to flatter our vanity, or fit in with our peculiar obsessions.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor last August made a demand upon the federal and state governments to help solve the unemployment situation by speeding up public works, erecting more public buildings and making more roads.

The council predicted that unless some such remedy were applied, the United States, instead of feeding the starving people of Russia next winter, will have its hands full relieving the famished millions of this country.

The council made the usual and expected appeal to the wage earners, organized and unorganized, to resist attempts at wage reductions.

It also protested against the concerted effort of the exploiters of our land for the further reduction of wages of men who even today cannot live in decency and comfort.

There is no doubt that the people in the country are hurt, but they manifestly don't know what hurts them.

They have the gripes, unmistakably, but instead of quitting eating green apples they are calling for more paregoric.

The falling off of production is not due to any conspiracy, but to natural laws.

The basis of business is capital, as our socialist friends so convincingly argue. And what's the matter with production is that people with capital are not investing it in production.

They are buying state, county, water, sewer and foreign bonds.

It looks like taking the money from the rich for the benefit of the poor when capital is overtaxed for going into industry. But the argument is pure flapdoodle.

The rich slide out of it. They buy bonds which are not taxed. Hence the factories slow down or close down. Hence unemployment.

Building public roads and buildings will not cure that. It is like trying to lift one's self by the bootstraps.

If the labor leaders will direct their efforts toward the liberation of tied up capital and quit talking bolshevistic bosh about people trying to "oppress" them, they will less resemble a cat chasing its own tail.

THE LISTENING POST

How's your house furnished?
That's just a friendly question.
Not designed to be impertinent.
And it is hardly necessary to ask it, you may think.

Because if one really wanted to know one has merely to go and see.

But we can't go to all the houses.
Because there is not the time.
And we are not speaking of your brick and stone and board and plaster house anyway.

We are speaking of your mental house.
The place where your thinkings are the furniture and the pictures and the decorations.

And that is much the same as the brick and stone house, in that it is easy to see what furniture it has, once we call upon you.

But we can't call on everybody.
Too many people.

And so we say again:
How's your house furnished?

For there are all kinds of mental furniture.
Just as there are all kinds of oak and walnut and rosewood and mahogany furniture.

There is, for instance, the heavy, overstuffed kind.

The big luxurious, ornate, massive, heavy, oppressive kind.
Of thinking, we mean.
Mental furniture.

Is your mental house furnished with that?
Do you curl up in your own thinking and get lost and sleepy in luxurious dreamings?
Are you that kind of a thinker?

Those whose minds are full of overstuffed furniture.

Tapestried and all that.
Deep cushions and velvets and brocades and the like.

Then there are minds filled with old fashioned furniture.
Stiff and hair-clothed and peculiar.
Thinkings that seem to have come from some old auction room.

Or curiosity shop.

It is not furniture for use in these days.
Just old-fashioned like and interesting because it shows you how people thought a long time ago.
Out of date.

Is your mind furnished with that?
Do you think in a century dead and buried?
Are the legs of your thinkings thin and spindling and the chair bottoms covered with hair-cloth?

How is your mental house furnished, anyway.
Is it in stiff and uncomfortable furniture, that affords no comfort whatever to your guests?
Do you offer them chairs of thinking in which they squirm and twist trying to find a comfortable position?

Is your thinking prim and stiff-backed and narrow, like a gilt chair in the parlor?
That you wonder at.
Why it was made?
And for what purpose?

Or do you have comfortable furniture in your mental house?
Neither stiff-backed nor too deeply tufted.
Something your friends can sit about in and stretch their legs and enjoy themselves.

Something that is practical and enduring.
That you are not afraid will get scratched and marred.

For there are polished mahogany thinkings, as you know.

And there is always the fear they will get a scratch on them.

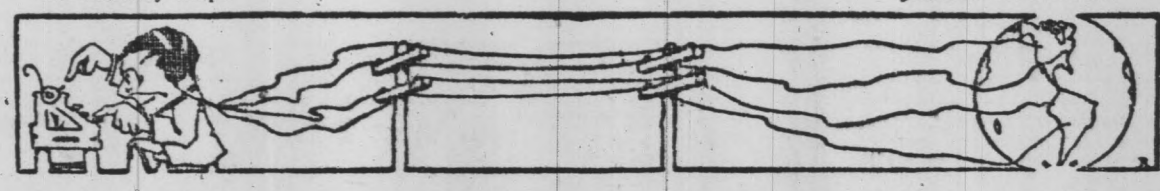

When your friends come to see you, they have to sit about a part of the time at least in your mental chairs and settees.

And is your mental house so furnished that they really enjoy themselves?

Do you offer them the fine old chairs of friendliness and good nature and tolerance and all that?
Or do you set them down in stiff-backed divans of primness and bigotry and unfriendliness and littleness?

The number of your callers and their kind will depend a good deal on how your mental house is furnished.

SONGS OF THE POETS

Kentucky Babe—By Richard Henry Buck (1869)

'Skeeters am a hummin' on de honeysuckle vine—
Sleep, Kentucky Babe!
Sandman am a comin' to dis little coon of mine—
Sleep, Kentucky Babe!
Silv'ry moon am shinin' in de heabens up above,
Bobolink am pinin' fo' his little lady love:
Yo' is mighty lucky,
Babe of old Kentucky—
Close yo' eyes in sleep.

Fly away,
Fly away, Kentucky Babe, fly away to rest,
Fly away.

Lay yo' kinky, woolly head on yo' mammy's breast—
Um—Um—
Close yo' eyes in sleep.
Daddy's in de cane-brake wid his little dog and gun—
Sleep Kentucky Babe!
'Possum fo' yo' breakfast when yo' sleepin' time is done—
Sleep Kentucky Babe!
Bogie man'll catch yo' sure unless you close yo' eyes,
Waitin' jes' outside de doo' to take yo' by surprise:
Be's be keepin' shady,
Little colored lady
Close yo' eyes in sleep.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

WHAT MAKES A GOOD FARMER

[Farm Life]

It is a bigger thing to be a good farmer than some of us think. There are those who seem to think that if we draw on a pair of overalls, follow the plow all day and worry a whole lot about the weather and things, therefore we are fine farmers. Land sakes, a stovepipe hat and a book under your arm don't make you a farmer. The thought you put into your work, the smiles you get from the earth when you tickle it in the ribs, the real good you do—these are the things that make you a farmer. Size yourself up once in a while. It will do you—and the rest of us—lots of good.

AMERICA'S BEST INVESTMENT

[Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph]

Now comes word that a British parliamentary commission, appointed to consider what should be its government's attitude toward the Chinese indemnity, reports in favor of remitting the portion that remains unpaid, stipulating that the money be used for Chinese education. Commenting on the example set by our government, the commission says: "American interests in China are advanced by the respect, trust and affection of the Chinese to a degree that no other nation enjoys." When our government remitted the indemnity the thought was not to get the inside track on China's commerce or even to secure her good will for selfish purposes. The logical result was to strengthen her friendship. Now to find Great Britain, after twenty years, following our example, is slightly amusing, but none the less gratifying.

NO TIME FOR DISPUTES

[Topeka State Journal]

The country is facing a winter of breadlines, soup kitchens, poverty and distress due to the unemployment situation.

Furthermore, it is facing a crime wave, for "Satan will find work for idle hands."

What is the cause?

Unemployment in the United States today is due primarily to the dispute between capital and labor.

There must be cooperation and it must come at once. Capital must get out from behind tax-dodging methods in connection with government assessments. It must stimulate production. Labor must come down from its pinnacle of power and meet wage reductions. Freight rates must be lowered. Steel and building products must stand another slice.

A winter of idleness will eat into the heart of true Americanism.

Comment on the News

By HENRY JAMES

Months ago was told the story of the woman who believed that her dead baby had come back to her.

She called the process "materialization." The baby not only was given substantial form, but the form of the child endowed with life. So she took the little visitor to her heart, and was comforted. For a long time nothing could break her faith in the "medium" who had accomplished this pleasant miracle for her, but she is weakening now. It seems that upon subsequent occasions she had accompanied the medium in shopping expeditions. When the medium stated that she was about to materialize a necklace out of the spiritual world, the disciple could not well doubt. Anybody capable of bringing back a baby surely ought to be able to do as much for a necklace. But the medium was observed to purchase a necklace and later it seemed to be this same bauble which, with groan and contortion, she wooed out of shadowy space. After the medium had duplicated this trick several times, the disciple frankly admitted that faith was losing its grip. However, it is a perfectly good baby she has, and though she is conscious of curiosity as to where it came from, she would like to keep it.

The man who deserts his family is set down as one of the meanest type of mortals. Such desertions are taking place in great number, according to reports from New York. The probation officer there states that there have been 300 desertions in a month. The tendency to condemn every offender equally might be unjust. The men who ran away were out of work. Most of them had sought work vainly. They could not feed the mouths at home. It is quite possible that in some cases there are other wage earners in the household. If so the presence of the father was not a help but a burden. Other fathers may have realized that with themselves away, charity that held aloof while the natural provider was near, would come to the rescue. It is not possible to say much in behalf of deserters, but perhaps even they should be given some chance to appear as not wantonly brutal or cowardly without exception.

Opinion that teachers in the public schools intend to control these worthy and useful institutions is freely expressed, but it is not unanimous. If a teacher is not interested in schools, the school is no place for him or her. If the experience of a teacher in handling children has not brought knowledge, which, imparted to the school board would be useful, the teacher would be a singularly stupid individual. Teachers ask for a representative at board meetings, and are informed from various sources that they are trying to institute soviet government. Parents also take an active interest in schools. To accuse them of soviet tendency would be absurd, of course. Nobody thinks of doing so. Why not at least an equal courtesy for teachers?

Judge Landis forbade Babe Ruth to go barnstorming, and at once Ruth was on his way bent on barnstorming all over the lot so long as weather permitted. This was not gracious conduct. Whether or not it was proper, there are authorities to determine. Of course if Ruth looks forward to a winter of battling the wolf from the door, much may be forgiven him.

The Malibu people have taken their case to the supreme court. For a time everybody who ever did anything to displease them, shivers in fear of contempt. By the time the supreme court has passed on the subject, probably there will be an international court. If both of these tribunals prove hostile to the Malibu crowd's contention, the only hope for peace is in the growing up of a new generation.

Drivers of automobiles sometimes are accused of discourtesy because of not taking care as passengers pedestrian who are going their way. Recently an owner ought to avoid reproach. He invited four to ride in his big machine. They accepted with enthusiasm. A little later, after robbing him, they threw him out, and vanished with the machine. In this and similar episodes lies the explanation of apparent smothering of hospitable impulse.

When an intruder tried to enter an automobile driven by a young woman of Pasadena, she raised no outcry. With one deft hand she gave him a poke in the jaw that jarred him from the running board. Then she "stepped on it." This is a good rule, but requires an even poise of mind, and the potentiality of a good punch concealed in the sleeve.

EAGLE ROCK'S GROWTH TOLD
BY BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED

For October $71,991.00
For Year, to date $758,062.00

MANY BUILDINGS ARE BEING ERECTED BY NEW RESIDENTS

Business Houses Are One of
Big Needs of Eagle
Rock Now

Few people realize just how many residences are under way in Eagle Rock, but a careful survey of building operations reveals the fact that there are no less than 150 buildings being erected within the city limits. Hardly a day passes that several permits are not issued at the city hall by Clerk Martsoff.

These homes are being completed rapidly as is shown by meter connections being made by the Southern California Edison company. Mrs. Baker, the local manager, states that new meters are being set at an average of five or six a day, and that there are few changes in rentable property, as most people own their homes in Eagle Rock. The gas company and city water departments verify the above statements.

The need for more business houses is also apparent. There are three new brick blocks about completed and every store room has been rented. It is reported that hardly a day passes when one or more people are not in the city looking for a store room. It is likely that several new blocks will be built very soon to supply this demand.

J. W. Bradley of Los Angeles has taken a position with the Eagle Rock Lumber company. He may decide to buy property in Eagle Rock.

LUMBER ACTIVITY IS KEEPING BRISK

Manager Emil S. Swanson, of the Eagle Rock Lumber company says his company is kept busy day and night taking orders and delivering lumber, and it is necessary to hold a large force of men in reserve to look after the demands of builders. At present there are several building companies operating in Eagle Rock, and Mr. Swanson has the satisfaction of being able to furnish the bulk of the lumber to them. Mr. Swanson being an expert in the lumber business and carrying a complete line of lumber and building material the Eagle Rock Lumber company is able to serve the community in a very satisfactory manner. Before coming to Eagle Rock Mr. Swanson was owner of the Swanson Lumber company, Pasadena.

Water System.
City Clerk Martsoff was instructed to advertise for bids for one 300,000 gallon steel water tank to be erected at the northern end of Victoria street, the money for which was included in a $40,000 bond issue last February. The new improvement will cost about $7,000 and will supplement the city's present water supply to an extent that will insure domestic water for many years. The rapid increase in population is now taxing the city's water system to supply the demand. Bids will be received for the construction of this tank up to Nov. 7, at 5 p. m.

Business Block.—Kelly & Van Arsdol, of West Colorado street, report the sale of the northwest corner of Orange street and Colorado for J. F. Stanford to the Huntington Rubber company of Los Angeles. It is the intention of the new owners to erect a business block on this corner as soon as arrangements can be made to do so.

REAL ESTATE MOVING
FAST IN EAGLE ROCK
SAYS J. B. BROWN

Wonderful Climate Given
As One of Reasons for Rapid Growth

Beginning six weeks ago the J. B. Brown & Company, on South Central avenue, report wonderful progress in their building and real estate activities. During the past week Mr. Brown states that they have transferred three houses for Eagle Rock parties and are today figuring on no less than 15 homes to be built in and about Eagle Rock.

In discussing the matter of Eagle Rock's general progress Mr. Brown said: "We have located in Eagle Rock because of our firm belief in its wonderful climate, its beautiful home surroundings and the fact that its growth is not the result of a wild real estate boom, but the outgrowth on the desire of people seeking healthful homesites. We as a real estate and building firm seek to avoid encouraging any unnatural or abnormal growth. We want the growth of Eagle Rock to be healthy, steady and without the possibility of a relapse as noted in other sections. I venture to say," Mr. Brown further stated, "that if 500 dwellings were started immediately within the limits of Eagle Rock, every one of them would be occupied in less than thirty days from completion by thorough and proper advertising."

MAKES CHANGES
Ever progressive, the Eagle Rock Garage is soon to make improvements which will add to their efficiency in serving the public. It will not be long before the Cadillac Motor company, which has been occupying a part of the Eagle Garage, will be in their new quarters. This will allow the Eagle Garage additional room which will be used to advantage. This garage has the reputation of being one of the best in this section.

BARNES' DAIRY BUSY
The Barnes Dairy at Eagle Rock has one of the most sanitary dairies in the county, and is not only serving Eagle Rock, but has a big business in Glendale as well. Mr. Barnes prides himself in being able to give his customers good, rich Jersey milk from "contented cows," and judging from his dairy and its surroundings his products are all he claims for them.

Many Residences Going Up.
The foothills are dotted with new buildings under way, and additions and improvements are being made on all sides. Many costly homes have been erected and are now under construction, and there seems to be no let-up to the building program.

EVELYN THAW ONCE AGAIN IN TROUBLE
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—David Goldfarb, a lawyer, today was appointed receiver for Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, by Justice Abraham Meyer in the city court. The receivership is the outcome of a suit brought against Miss Nesbit, proprietress of a tea room in the theatrical district. Hanna E. Watt brought suit for services rendered and goods provided. The account rendered amounts to $2,000.

The Daily Press wants a good live young man or woman to assist in gathering the news for the Eagle Rock page. Leave your name and address at the Barber Shop, and our representative will get in touch with you. The Eagle Rock page is being run for the benefit of Eagle Rock and the Daily Press wants Eagle Rock people to feel free to send in any news items they may have. Phone Glendale 97 or send in your items any time. Tell the reporter that they are for the Eagle Rock page of the Glendale Press. All church announcements and other news are wanted.

LOCATION OF UNION
HIGH SCHOOL SITE

The people of Eagle Rock are very much concerned as to the location of the new Union high school, and being in this high school district and having a population of around 4,000 Eagle Rock feels in the matter of locating the school their needs should be carefully considered.

Eagle Rock has been in the Glendale High School district since the district was formed, and Eagle Rock and Glendale have interests in common, at least in school matters. Transportation facilities between Glendale and Eagle Rock are exceptionally good, car service being made every half hour between the two towns, besides the Pasadena stage passes through every half hour.

To locate the school where it would be inconvenient for our people," said a prominent Eagle Rock man, "would be doing our children a gross injustice, and we feel careful consideration should be given the matter of the school site."

The sentiment in Eagle Rock is strong for the location of the high school on the East side of Glendale, and the patrons of the school feel they have little occasion for fear that the trustees will not look carefully after their interests.

BUSINESS BLOCKS
GOING UP RAPIDLY

Edwards & Wildey, real estate dealers and builders, are pushing forward building operations in Eagle Rock, and at present have two brick business blocks under construction besides numerous residences. They report that many real estate transfers are also being made through their office. The Edwards & Wildey company are pioneers in Eagle Rock and have done much toward building up this section. H. S. Bourne & Son, two progressive and live-wire business men, are Eagle Rock managers for the Edwards & Wildey company, and are doing much to forward the interests of Eagle Rock.

SUES FOR $10,000
FOR LOST CANINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Frank M. Stone, whose principal aid and support on the vaudeville stage and in motion pictures was his Dalmatian dog, Sherlock Holmes, filed suit in the supreme court today against Warner Brothers, motion-picture producers, for $10,000 for the untimely death of the canine actor, which Stone said was due to poisoning through the carelessness of the defendants.

MAYOR ROBERTSON'S
NAME ENROLLED
BY BADGERS

Popular City Head Honored
by the Citizens of Blythe

Mayor Robertson Abbot does not take as many days off as he should perhaps, but when he does get away from the grind of municipal and private business affairs his friends say he believes in thoroughly enjoying himself. The following article from the Blythe Herald would indicate that the popular city official was not long some at any time when he visited Blythe a few days ago.

The Herald says: "The peaceful little city of Eagle Rock, nestling just over the hill from the village of Los Angeles, has suddenly had great honors thrust upon it. Its mayor, the Hon. Robertson Abbot, Monday night received his initiation as president of Blythe's famous Badger club."

In order that Eagle Rock may fully appreciate the distinction that its mayor has won, it may be stated that the roll of ex-presidents of the Badger club includes such notables as the chief of police of Hollywood, the cashier of the Hellman bank in Los Angeles, and Mr. Harlan, whose wonderful voice is known wherever the Edison phonograph is found.

"Pop" Hunt's battle-scarred badger was in its fighting mood when the gang lined up at "Spikie" Robinson's pavilion for Monday night's fray.

"Badger money was plentiful until Walt West's ferocious bulldog entered the arena. The dog immediately became the favorite and was getting odds when the fight started. "When the all-important question of 'pulling' the badger was presented, there followed a bitter dispute that was not settled until someone suggested Mayor Abbot for the job."

Mayor Reynolds had already agreed to hold the bulldog, so it developed into a battle between two of Southern California's most celebrated mayors. "Abbot's badger made a wonderful fight—in fact, it was so good that the mayor received a unanimous vote as the next president of the club."

"Owing to the new president's modesty, he probably will not acclaim his new achievement when he returns to the home town, but no doubt C. L. Suits will hear of the Blythe initiation and will see that Eagle Rock gives its much-honored mayor a fitting reception."

EASTERN STAR HAS

REALTY COMPANY
REPORTS NEW SALES

The Eagle Rock Realty company is a new firm which recently opened up in Eagle Rock. They report the following sales for the past few days: Lot on Eagle Rock avenue to Nelson Wieman of Occidental College, who will build an elegant home; lot on Sierra Vista to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson of Los Angeles, who will shortly build; lot on Douglas avenue to Mr. and Mrs. O. H. P. Carry of Lawndale, who will build at once.

Remarkable Growth.
Eagle Rock was incorporated as a city March 1, 1911, with a population of 600. Five years later she had 1800, showing an increase of 300 per cent. The official 1920 census showed 2250. There has been an actual increase in population during the past 18 months of 2,000—a total Oct. 1, 1921, of 4,550. The material growth of Eagle Rock has been almost unbelievable. The following figures are not obtained by guess work. They are official: The assessed valuation has increased from $900,000 to $2,410,000. The building permits have totaled not less than $100,000 in any year since incorporation. For the year 1920 they totaled $829,000, and for the first six months of 1921 they were $388,633—all for residences. Every indication points to a million for this year.

Mrs. H. E. Marchant has opened a dressmaking business at 522 South Central avenue, and announces she is a designer and maker of smart clothes. With a wide experience, catering to the best class of people in this line Mrs. Marchant should make a big success.

NEW GARAGE WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY

In keeping with the growth of the city Eagle Rock is to have another garage—the Happy Valley Garage, located at 325 South Central avenue. Messrs. Walter Gurnee and Frank Jolson are the new proprietors, their opening announcement appearing on the Eagle Rock page of this paper. The building which they are to occupy is undergoing improvements and the new firm will be ready for business Monday. Mr. Jolson was formerly with the Eagle Rock Garage, and Mr. Gurnee was with the Glendale Mill company for ten years. Both men are good mechanics and announce they will be prepared to handle any kind of automobile or machine work.

HALF OF ENGLAND
IN J. BULL'S PAY

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Nearly half of the British public is receiving aid from the government. Official figures just published reveal the amazing fact that in the last year 46 per cent of the British population has received some form of public assistance, exclusive of free education. The total money grant in 1920 was $32,000,000 pounds sterling (normally about $1,600,000,000), which is equivalent to taxation of about $100 a family. The figures this year will be larger. England's unemployed are now officially estimated at 1,600,000.

LOAN ASSOCIATION IS DOING MUCH FOR HOMESEEEKERS

Investment Plan Appeals to Person Who Seeks Good Security

Twenty-two homes are now under construction in Glendale, the money for the building of which was provided by the Southern California Metropolitan Loan association, 113 West Broadway. This is the only organization in Glendale that is loaning money for building homes. It is the only association aiding in the up-building of this city in this particular manner.

Everyone knows there is a house shortage in Glendale. There are many who would build homes if they were financially able, and there are still others who would come to Glendale if they could finance the building of homes here or if they could get some one to take care of this end of the building proposition for them. It is here that the Southern California Metropolitan Loan association steps in and provides the necessary funds. But the work of this association is not simply that of loaning money for building purposes. It has a department where the leading business man or the laborer can invest his money and prepare for the "rainy day." The man with the account of one dollar a week is just as welcome and is treated just as courteously as is the one paying in $50 per month.

The investment department is a three-way proposition. The first is for persons who prefer to save a given sum each month and get the benefit of maximum earnings. To these membership shares "having a par value of $200, payable $1 per month per share are issued. Dividends on this class of investment have never been less than 7 per cent per annum, compounded semi-annually. If withdrawn within ninety-six months the holder receives the full amount paid in plus 5 per cent per annum for the time the association has had the money. After 96 months the full net earnings are paid.

The second part of this department is for people who wish to invest whatever they can from time to time but do not pledge themselves to invest any certain amount each month. On investments of this kind 5 per cent dividend is paid.

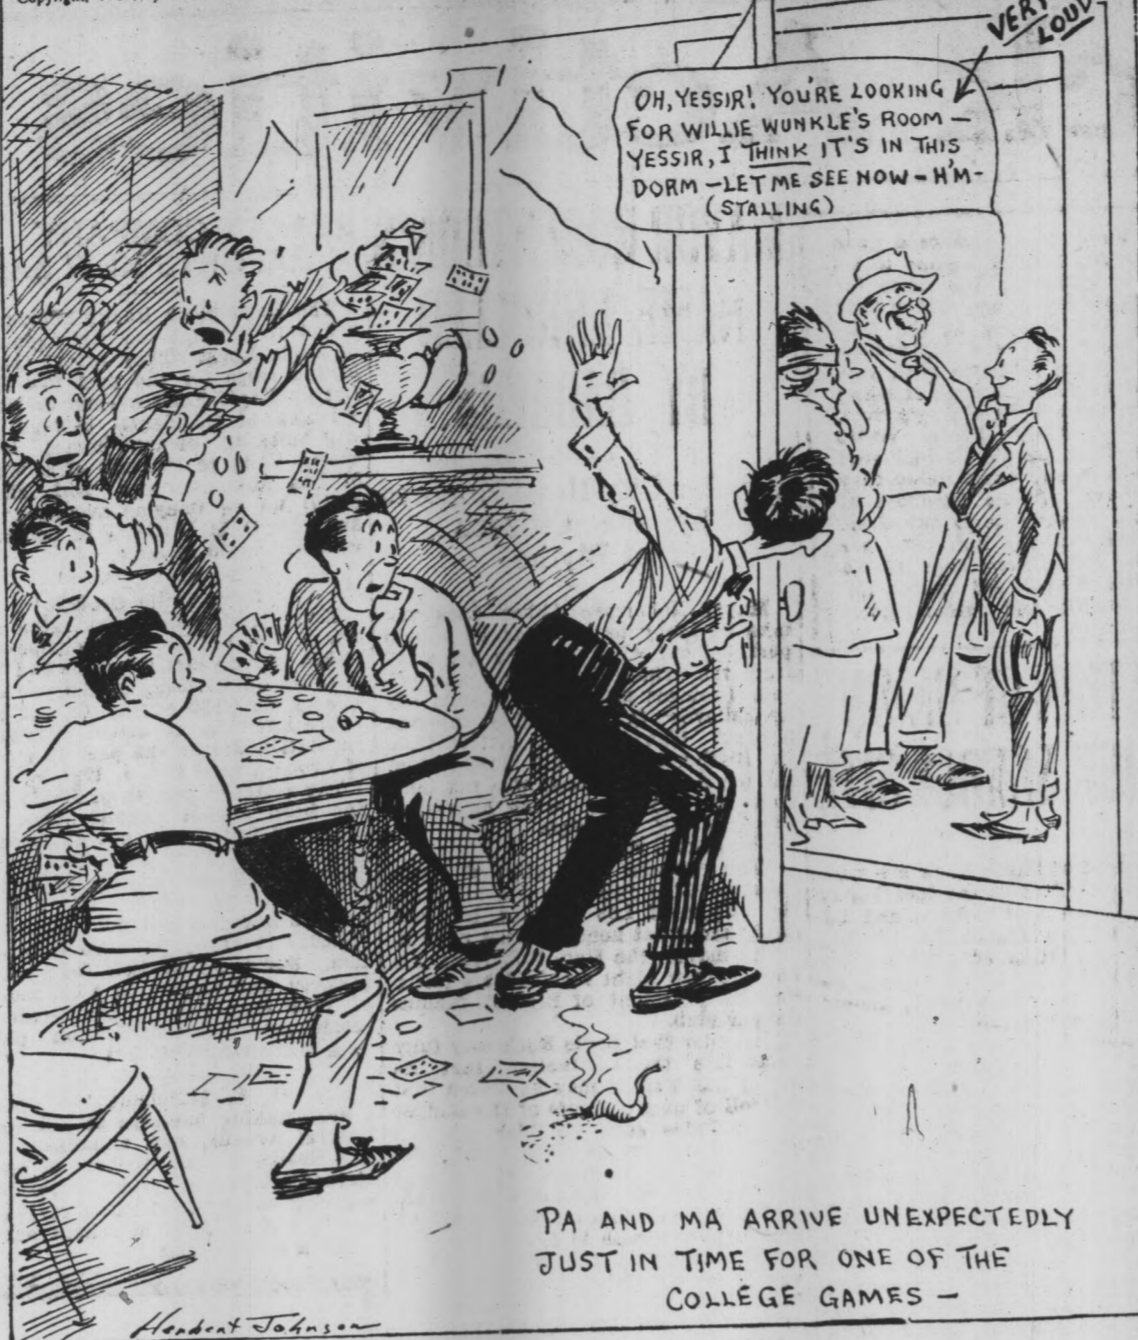

The third part of this company's plan is for the person who desires to invest a fixed sum on which he can draw his dividends in cash. These cash certificates are issued in sums of $100 or in any multiple of $100. These certificates pay 6 per cent per annum payable semi-annually.

It is through the sales of these various certificates that the Southern California Metropolitan Loan association secures the money that it loans for building purposes.

The Southern California Metropolitan Loan association is doing a good business in Glendale. It has in the past assisted many of the citizens of this city to finance the building of

FROZEN SALMON TO BE SHIPPED ABROAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20. — The first shipment of frozen salmon ever sent from this port will leave here October 30 for London. It was announced today by H. O. Heckley, manager of the Columbia and Northern Fishing and Packing company of Altona, Wash., who said other consignments will follow the first one of 30 tons. America now has the opportunity to supply all the foreign market for salmon, he said, because the Bolsheviks had burned the canneries established by the Japanese in Siberia.

Gray furs on navy or sorrento blue seem to be the theme of displays. Their homes, and the number that it is aiding is increasing as the months go by.

GOOD ATTRACTIONS FOR LEGION FIESTA

The American Legion Post has secured for the amusement feature of their program on Armistice Day the Greater Sheesley Shows. They will be brought here from a most successful tour of the western Canadian fairs and also the state fairs of Montana, Wyoming and Utah, bringing with them the good will of the press and the most unqualified endorsement of many fairs played.

Among the attractions with this show will be a wild animal arena that rivals those of the modern circus where lions, leopards and other beasts of the jungle present acts.

The Autodrome is another attraction starring Olive Hager, the mile-a-minute girl, whose riding on a perpendicular wall on a motorcycle has thrilled thousands.

POSTAGE METER TO "LICK YOUR LETTERS"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Thanks to a new automatic postage meter, which post offices in the large industrial towns have ready for hire, and you may mail a thousand letters without stamps as soon as you like to rent the machine.

The meter looks like a small hand safe, stands about twelve inches high and has an inside mechanism which provides for a stamping pad which dates the letters and cancels the stamp. You hire your machine and take it away from the post office, "charged up" to frank a thousand letters. All your mail clerk has to do is to slip the envelopes through the foot of the machine, press a button—and presto—out they come, all dated and franked ready to be put aboard the train. When the thousand register shows on the machine, the post office rewinds it for a fresh thousand frankings with a special key.

Several New York firms have adopted the machine since its very recent appearance—it has only been a few weeks since the post office adopted the invention.

LIFE INSURANCE CO. HEAD CALLED IN SOUTHARD CASE

Defense Believed Trying to Show it Behind Prosecution of Woman

TWIN FALLS, Ida., Oct. 20.—In furtherance of its attempt to prove that the Idaho State Life Insurance company of Boise, is "persecuting" Mrs. Lydia Southard, alleged "Blue-bearded" by spending large sums of money in the case, Mrs. Southard's attorneys, it was learned today, have subpoenaed Edward S. Chadwick, president of the company and have ordered him by court writ to produce the books of the company in open court.

Dr. H. W. Wilson, who attended Mrs. Southard's first husband, R. C. Dooley, and her brother-in-law, Ed Dooley, during the fatal illness in 1915, took the stand in the morning session. He told of the symptoms of the illness of the two men and in answer to a hypothetical question, based on the symptoms and on the findings of the three chemists, stated that he believed the two men died of arsenical poisoning.

Rumors were freely circulated today to the effect that the defense has openly announced its intention of making the trial as expensive as possible so that if the trial results in a disagreement of the jury, great pressure will be brought to bear on the prosecution by the taxpayers not to re-try it.

The state's witness fees and transportation will only total about $4500 it is said. The whole trial will probably cost the county between $15,000 and $20,000.

THIRTEEN SONS TO TWENTY DAUGHTERS

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Oct. 20.—Manna C. Bruner, seventy-six, is "daddy" to thirty-three children. Bruner is one-quarter Creek Indian and three-quarters negro and makes his home in Independence, Mo. He is reputed to have the second largest family of any man in the Creek Indian nation. Bruner says that he has been married three times; his first two wives are dead.

The children range from youngsters of thirteen to middle-aged men and women. Twenty of them are girls and thirteen are boys. Twelve of the sons are overseas veterans of the World War. The "H. C. L." didn't worry Bruner as far as providing for his family was concerned. He formerly lived with the Creek nation in Oklahoma. The government allotment of $14 a month for each man, woman and child made the provision problem simple for the veteran Indian. Bruner served in the Union Army in the Civil War.

ADmits GUILT
MT. HOLLY, N. J., Oct. 20.—Louis Lively, the negro who is said to have confessed he killed 7-year-old Matilda Russo at East Morristown last June, was brought here late today from Bridgeton, and placed in jail. He was arrested earlier in the day at Vineland after shooting a policeman.

WHO DO YOU S'POSE CAME TO TAD'S RESCUE?

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1931, by The Associated Newspapers)

You can imagine how Nibble Rabbit felt. Here he'd brought Trailer and the Hound way into the middle of the Deep Woods to rescue Tad Coon. And now Trailer said he felt like helping the foxes who were after Tad. All would tell Tommy Peele's dog, for sure and certain.

He sat down to think it over. And the harder he thought the more ashamed he looked. He knew what Watch would do; Watch wasn't afraid of anything. Nibble didn't sit down. He couldn't puzzle this out, but he had a curious feeling that his furry feet had better be ready to jump. Something was going to happen. It was still as still. Trailer shook his head till his ears flapped as if a fly had bit one of them. But no fly buzzed. The cool night air had stiffened every wing until sun-up. It was Trailer's own cowardliness that stung him.

Nibble couldn't have told you whether the chill in the bristly fur along his spine was fright or the tickly teasing of the dawn wind. It woke a rustle in the leaves, a whisper sound like the wall of poor discouraged Tad. It grew louder, louder, as if it were hiding something—as it was. It was hiding footsteps.

The first thing Nibble heard was: Blam! Crack! Ker-smash! It wasn't a tree falling. When a tree falls the "crack" comes first and the "blam" comes next as it hits the earth, and there's much more "Ker-smashing." And no tree comes ker-flooming through the woods on four clumsy feet, lowing "Foxes! Foxes! Let me at 'em." No that couldn't be anybody but the Red Cow. You know how she hated them! And she was in the Deep Woods, even if she couldn't squeeze through the wire fence like the woodsfolk do. Or climb it, either.

Up leaped Trailer, all enthusiasm. "This way!" he barked. "Right this way! Now we'll fix 'em!"

Next story: The Red Cow Goes A-Hunting.

No; That Couldn't Be Anybody but the Red Cow

because Tad would play tricks that were funnier for him than they were for the other fellow. Poor Nibble was at the end of his wit!

But folks sometimes say things they don't exactly mean. Like Trailer. He was just having a good growl at Tad. It gave him such a nice excuse for not getting into a mixup. For those red rascals were in such a terrible rage he knew mighty well there would be biting if he took after them. All the same he hated to tuck his tail between his legs and sneak back home. He was glad nobody but Nibble was there to see him. But Nibble

DRY AGENTS RAIDED BUTLER HOME NEAR HERE TUESDAY

Son Alleged to Have Held Gun on Officer Time of Raid

Two charges were filed yesterday in Los Angeles against Henry R. Butler, his wife and their son, Elmer Butler, as the outcome of a bloodless shooting which occurred near Glendale Tuesday night when Prohibition Enforcement Agent Dan O'Leary, J. P. Doyle, state prohibition director and other operatives raided the Butler home and arrested the pair on a charge of operating a still.

According to a report of the raid the officers surrounded the house and Doyle entered and attempted to purchase some liquor. The Butler family became suspicious and Elmer, the son, covered him with a gun, calling to his father at the same time to cover Doyle with his gun. Doyle and the son grappled and in the scuffle a shot was fired. Doyle subdued the younger Butler while O'Leary and others pursued the fleeing Mr. and Mrs. Butler.

It is said that two men who are alleged to have been members of the so-called Glendale liquor ring accompanied the officers on the raid at the Butler home.

Charges of having a whisky still in their possession and with interference with the persons designated by the prohibition agent to enforce the law. Butler was held in $10,000 bond and his wife and son in $2500 bond each by U. S. Commissioner Long.

INSTALL STAINED GLASS WINDOWS

Beautiful stained glass windows made by Tiffany & Company of New York City, are being set in the Holy Family Catholic church at the corner of Elk and Louise under the supervision of Mr. J. J. Griffin, western representative of the company.

The effect is the lovelier because of the harmony of design and coloring due to the fact that all have been executed by the one company. "Dominating all others in beauty is the large window above the organ loft in the front of the church donated by Ramona Institute No. 87 Y. L. L. which is a reproduction of Murillo's immaculate Conception.

Memorial windows have been given by Mrs. J. P. Green, M. H. Becker, Frank J. Vogel.

In the sanctuary are beautiful windows, the emblem of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, the gift of Frank Monahan, and the Sacred Heart of Jesus, the gift of the Catholic men of Glendale.

The Altar Society of 1921 has given a window bearing the emblem of St. Matthew; the Pioneer Members give the emblem of St. John; Napoleon Le Blanc gives the emblem of St. Mark, and Dr. and Mrs. N. Bray the emblem of St. Luke.

A window bearing the emblem of the Knights of Columbus, is given by the local chapter. Other donors of windows are: Henry M. Doll and family, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Degnan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leslie, Mrs. William Zimmerman and Miss Gertrude Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith and Mrs. Anna E. Smith, L. G. Scovene, Mrs. J. A. McGowan, Addie O'Leary and Frank G. Yeager, Frederick and Catherine M. Huesman.

HONEY BEES GIVE TROUBLE TO GROCER

Like the plague of locusts that descended on Egypt, a swarm of bees have descended in Glendale and are making life miserable for people along Brand boulevard. A grocery on South Brand seems to be the headquarters for the horde of insects. One woman is said to have been badly stung while passing the grocery. Several merchants have been forced to scatter insect powder around their stores to put an end to the pests and nearly every store has numbers of dead bees on the floors and swarms of live ones continue to annoy tradespeople as well as customers.

THE BORDER SPEAKS

(The agricultural experts have discovered a new kind of prune—Daily Paper).
I am just a humble boarder, with my vision set on grub.
But I want the old, home cooked kind and don't get it—there's the rub.
Still I try to reconcile me to the things that have to be, And I eat my meals without complaint and suffer patiently.
I am just a humble boarder, and I quite accept my fate.
The hash, croquettes and stews and things that come upon my plate.
But modern agriculture is conferring no glad boon Upon the likes of me when it discovers a new prune.

There were already prunes enough—the big ones and the small The wrinkled ones and smooth and long and short—I know them all. The fat and juicy ones, the dry, the stout ones and the lean, The black ones and the blue ones and the white ones and the green. I know that whole prune family, from A clear down to Z. I've met some new ones every day for breakfast, lunch and tea. Until I thought I'd eaten all varieties, to find That some one has been busy and discovered a new kind.

I wish they would discover me a tender kind of steak; I wish they would go forth and find an egg that I might break Without much fear and trembling; if the scientific group Of folks would only go and find an oyster for my soup! I wish the butter slicers who lay shadows on my plate Would thicken up their wares a bit! I merely wish to state This news gives me no thrill at all—but once in a blue moon They might add to the store of grub some thing beside a prune!

URGE PEOPLE VISIT MONTE VISTA TO SEE GOOD WORK DONE

At the Monte Vista Lodge for under-nourished children at Monte Vista, there is to be a harvest in-gathering next Wednesday afternoon, October 26, from 2 to 4, when friends of the institution are invited to inspect it, taking gifts of fruit, vegetables, groceries, etc., to fill its larders.

Glendale has won credit for the kitchen it provided for the institution on which there still remains an indebtedness which it is hoped will be wiped out by the proceeds of the Halloween party at the Pearl Keller Studio, October 28.

County officials are enthusiastic over the results of the help the Monte Vista lodge is giving the children of the poor and business men of Los Angeles are becoming interested and have agreed to finance building bungalows which will enable working girls of slender means to have an outing there.

Mrs. R. W. Meeker, who was the Glendale representative of the Council of Community Service, feels that already the council is repaid for its efforts.

The property consists of about two acres of ground and a run-down building of 45 rooms, was bought for $9,000. The City of Los Angeles loaning the initial payment of $2,500 necessary to secure it. That money has been repaid and in addition the hotel has been thoroughly renovated and made over. It was recently appraised at $55,000 and the council feels it was an excellent buy.

Mrs. Meeker is urging Glendaleans to visit the lodge and see for themselves. It can be easily located by motoring to Montrose turning to the left and continuing north to Sunland, where it will be found close to the highway and close to the park.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE AT T. D. & L. THEATRE

The T. D. and L. theatre is offering Friday and Saturday another selection of Meiklejohn and Dunn Vaudeville road show. Holding this week's program will be the Pantages headline act, "Heartstrings," which just recently played the Pantages theatre in Los Angeles. Herbert Bethew and Company is responsible for this playlet of life itself which is termed a "comedy drama." Another attraction will be the Lytell Twins in a series of beautiful and colorful dances. They come here under the direction of Ted Shawn, America's premier male dancers. When it is taken into consideration that Mr. Shawn produces but three or four acts a year that he allows to tour the big time the value of this attraction is readily seen. The act recently had its premier at the Pantages Los Angeles theatre and is shortly to leave on a tour of the entire circuit. Others on the program are "The Novelty Trio" composed of Hawaiian instrumentalists and vocalists; Lee and Sam, two clever boys at a piano who just recently returned from a tour of the bigger circuits and a novelty act.

Today is the last day for Betty Compson in "At the End of the World" and Charlie Murray in "His Unhappy Finish."
